

Kerr Klan Awaits Onrush of Galloping Gaels

BAND PRACTICE

WITH two major events looming in the future—the Queen's game on Saturday and a trip to Toronto on November 6—the McGill Band is holding a practice in the Union today, to which new members are invited to attend.

The band has a busy season before it, since it not only attends all home rugby and hockey games, but will follow the Red Team to Toronto, and is contemplating a trip during the hockey season.

The Students' Society has presented to the band two cups for annual competition: one for the best musician in the group, the other for the member who has shown the most improvement in musicianship during the season. Awards are also given for regular attendance at rehearsals. The final feature on the program of the band is a banquet in March after the hockey season, at which these tokens are presented.

CASTING TO BEGIN TODAY IN PLAYERS' CLUB PRODUCTION

Six Characters Needed for Keith Winter's Play, "The Shining Hour"

HAVING decided to present as their first production of the season Keith Winter's "The Shining Hour," the Players' Club is now casting for the play. Prospective actors may interview Mr. Edwin Wayne, director, beginning today at 2:30 in the clubroom. Typists also are required in the clubroom all morning and all afternoon; while tenders are called for production heads. The "Daily" will publish future dates of casting.

The cast of "The Shining Hour" is as follows:

JUDY LINDEN—Judy is 22. Her hair is short, nondescript, brown and very tidy. Her face is clear-cut, intelligent, and rather boyish.

HANNAH LINDEN—Hannah is a woman of about 45, grey-haired and neatly-built. Her face is sharp-featured, alert and rather acidulated. There is a "no nonsense about me" look in her eyes, but they are not unkind. She gives the impression of great physical activity and general capability.

HENRY LINDEN—Henry is a tall, well-made man of about 48. Like Hannah, the kindness of his eyes belies the slight bitterness of his mouth. His voice is quiet and attractive. He is the most polished of the Lindens.

MICKEY LINDEN—Mickey is 20. His figure is slim, but strong. His dark face will probably coarsen with the years, but at the moment he is extremely handsome. Easy insurance can, in some people, be an attractive quality. In Mickey we feel that it is somehow misplaced.

MARIELLA LINDEN—Mariella is tall, fair, and unusually beautiful. In a curious way she seems to combine the nervousness of a child with the assurance of a woman. There is something wild about her, but there is also something very still. All this makes it very difficult to determine her age. She is probably about 30.

DAVID LINDEN—David is about 25. Like all the Lindens, he is tall and well-made. He is not nearly so good looking as Mickey but his face has an infinitely greater variety of expressions. He lacks Henry's poise, but he possesses a simple charm which is very appealing. His nose and chin are nondescript, his hands quite exceptionally beautiful. The large mouth is sensitive and mobile; the eyes puzzled, but not unhappy. It is an interesting face and, like most interesting faces, a curious mixture of the weak and the strong.

ATHLETIC COUPONS

No athletic coupons will be issued on Saturday morning before this or any other football game. Major D. S. Forbes.

PROM TO FOLLOW FROSH BANQUET IN MCGILL UNION

Prof. Noad Will Be Guest Speaker at Freshman Dinner

"DUTCH TREAT" USED

Freshettes Will Present Original Floor Show After Banquet in Union

THE social season of McGill gets under way with the major frosh function of the year, the Freshman-Freshette dinner and prom on Monday evening, October 25.

The Women's Union will be the host and sponsor of the freshette banquet which will begin at 6:30 in the Annex Cafeteria of the Union. Freshettes will attend this function "on their own." The program will begin with doing justice to the good food which will be provided. A floor show will then be presented to the assembled guests. This floor show has been carefully planned and arranged by the freshettes themselves, and will, as far as possible, be executed by the freshettes.

While the freshettes are enjoying their banquet, the freshmen will have their own banquet in the Union Cafeteria, starting at 8:15. This freshman banquet will be under the joint auspices of the First Year Class and the Arts Undergraduate Society. The Executive of this Society announces that the freshmen will have the opportunity of hearing Professor Noad, of the Department of English, who will be the guest speaker of the evening. One of the features of the banquet will be a program of community singing which will be carried on during the dinner.

Admission to these functions will be gained only upon presentation of tickets. Since this is a most important frosh function, no crashers (Continued on Page Four.)

A. J. NESBITT TO ADDRESS MEETING

I.V.C.F. to Inaugurate Series of Meetings

A. J. NESBITT will be the speaker at the I.V.C.F. Open Meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Common Room of the R.V.C. His subject will be "Christianity and the Student."

Mr. Nesbitt is an executive in the investment world of St. James Street. He is president of Nesbitt, Thompson and Co., Limited, Canadian Northern Power Corp., Power Corporation of Canada, as well as being on the board of directors of many other Canadian public utilities. He is keenly interested in evangelical Christian movements and as such has served as a governor of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

The speaker will take up the main characteristics of the Christian faith and indicate their relation to student life. He will show the connection between the two and present the dynamic involved. This meeting is the first in a series featuring men who are prominent in their profession. They have been chosen by the McGill Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship to acquaint students with Christianity, as seen from different points of view. Refreshments will be served following this informal address.

FRESHETTE ELECTIONS

ELECTIONS of officers who will lead the freshettes in the faculty of Arts and Science during 1937-38, were held today. Frances McLeod was elected President; Vice-President, Peggy Tyndale, Secretary-Treasurer, Nora Kinghorn; Athletics Manager, Barbara Winslow; Reading Room representative, Elizabeth Mooney.

UNION DANCE TOMORROW

FEATURING the smart rhythm of Howard Simpson's Privateers presents another tea-dance to-morrow, after the Queen's game. All previous records were broken at last week's dance which was voted a gala affair. Interviewed last night Dave Fraser, president of the Union said that he hoped to see a good number of visiting Queen's supporters present.

Some members of the football team and other campus personalities have indicated their intention of taking in the dance. A medley of college tunes will be one of the feature dance numbers. There is no better way to keep in touch with your crowd after the game, especially with everyone feeling in such a good mood, than to form a party and come up to the Union.

Dancing will continue in the ballroom from five to seven-thirty except for a short interval in which tea will be served in the grill-room. Tickets are on sale at Bill Gentlemen's and the Tuck Shop at the price of $1.00 including refreshments.

MOCK PARLIAMENT WILL DEBATE ON JAPANESE BOYCOTT

Winners of Bovey Shield to Lead Open Discussion on Wednesday

THE first Mock Parliament of the season will be held at the Union Ballroom on Wednesday, October 27th, at 8:30 p.m., on the resolution, "That this House Favours a Popular Boycott of Japanese Goods by the Canadian People."

The Government will be led by Jack Gross, runner-up in the Bovey Shield Public-Speaking Contest held last Monday; and the Opposition will follow the lead of Boris Wallis, this year's winner of the Shield.

The leaders of the discussion will speak for about fifteen minutes each, after which speakers from the floor will be given five minutes each to voice their opinions. This affords a special opportunity for freshmen who, evidencing their interest in public speaking by their record turnout for the Bovey Shield, will have another opportunity of displaying their oratorical talents (?)—and this time before a large audience.

Parliamentary Procedure, modeled after that of Ottawa, will be observed as much as possible, with Alfred Pick, President of the Debating Society, acting as Speaker of the House, and directing the discussion.

Speakers will be permitted to interrupt one another's speeches by asking questions relative to the topic under discussion; and cheers from the audience will be permitted. (Continued on Page Four.)

LEAD DISCUSSES NEEDS FOR HIGH SCHOOL BIOLOGY

Gold Suggests More Biology as Solution to Social Ills

SCIENCE VS. RELIGION

Plan for New School System of Selective Education Rouses Discussion

"EDUCATION is a preparation for life and social efficiency, and biology the process of adaptation to environment, hence it is easy to see how important are their relations to one another." With these two definitions, Harry Lead, M.Sc., and at present teaching science at Montreal High School, began his discussion of the place of biology in education.

"Biology," he continued, "does not necessarily mean the complete elimination of religion. It is possible to erect a new and satisfactory philosophy on the basis of the new ideas. For instance, it is a scientific fact that immortality lies in the germ plasm, so instead of believing in personal immortality, one can conceive of life after death as the welfare of one's children." (Continued on Page Four.)

PACIFISM SUBJECT OF TALK TONIGHT

Messrs. Sayre and Bartlett Speak at Strathcona Hall

Under the auspices of the Fellowship for a Christian Social Order, Mr. J. N. Sayre and Mr. Percy Bartlett will address a meeting in Strathcona Hall this evening, at 8 p.m.

The subject of the address will be "Embassies of Reconciliation." These embassies are attempts to bring the positive and constructive message and action of Christian pacifism directly to bear on the peace and war situation of the world.

Mr. Sayre, of Washington, D.C., is president of the Fellowship of Reconciliation in the U.S.A. Mr. Bartlett, who occupies a similar position in Great Britain, has recently accompanied Mr. George Lansbury on his visits to Hitler and Mussolini. He is a convinced exponent of the pacifist position. After the talks, an opportunity will be offered for questions and discussion. (Continued on Page Four.)

CIRCLE MEETS SUNDAY

THE Maccabean Circle will hold its second regular meeting on Sunday, October 24th, 1937, in the Reading Room of the Union, at 3:00 p.m.

The meeting will open with a short business period, during which the various committees will be announced. Following this, Mr. S. S. Cohen, superintendent of the Jewish General Hospital, will speak on the subject, "The Modern Hospital." Mr. Cohen has had wide hospital experience, having been with the Beth Israel Hospital in New York previous to his appointment in Montreal. He has held the post at the Jewish Hospital since its opening in 1933.

In his talk, the speaker will endeavour to trace the development and growth of the modern hospital from earliest times, and will compare the primitive methods of hospitalization of a century ago with the modern methods of today.

PROFESSOR WOOD LECTURES BEFORE RAILWAY SOCIETY

New Campus Group to Visit Montreal Locomotive Works

LAST night, shortly after 8 o'clock, the McGill Railway Club held its initial meeting in room 38 of the Engineering Building.

Mr. John French, President of the Club, extended a cordial welcome to all those who turned out for the meeting. After the reading of the minutes by Leonard Seton, secretary of the Club, Dr. Nicholls, Lecturer in Chemistry, was called upon to address a few words to the members. In the course of his address Dr. Nicholls signified his willingness to co-operate with the members in meeting any difficulty that might arise.

Professor Wood, Honorary President of the Club, then delivered a short talk in which he traced the development of the railway since its inception 107 years ago. By way of enhancing interest in the meeting, there was a wide variety of pictures of locomotives in different stages of development exhibited. In reply to a letter to the executive, Dr. Dawson, photographer of the C.P.R., offered to supply the Club with photographs wherever to illustrate any topic which may come up for discussion in subsequent meetings. The Montreal Locomotive Works has extended an invitation to the Railway Club to inspect the premises any time convenient to them. The Club intends to avail itself of this invitation by going there "en masse" on October 30th.

According to the constitution of the Club, its objects are to encourage students to take an active interest in the railway. (Continued on Page Four.)

RED TEAM AT FULL STRENGTH FOR CRUCIAL TILT TOMORROW

QUEEN'S NEED VICTORY

Seek to Break String of Two Straight Losses

DOGGED BY HARD LUCK

Dennis and Thompson Out, But Others in Fine Fettle for Game

By JOHN DOBIE.
(Queen's Journal.)

ON Saturday afternoon in the Molson Stadium in Montreal, Queen's and McGill will face each other for the first time this season. The match promises to be a close one as Ted Reeve's boys are going to leave the cellar position if they can and Doug Kerr and his squad are hoping to keep them there while making a valiant attempt to climb to the top of the heap.

So far this season Queen's has not had Dame Fortune with her as far as wins are concerned, but each team they have played has had a good run for its money, and with any kind of luck they'll come out with a win.

GAELS PROMISE TROUBLE.

The Kerr-boys are extremely confident of a win over the Tricolor but they have not faced them yet and they don't know what is in store for them. The Mustangs dampened their ardour somewhat but their last-minute win last Saturday over Varsity revived their hopes. Queen's may dampen them again because the Gaels have a habit of getting out of tight corners unexpectedly.

The Reevermen have been going through some tough workouts at the Stadium this past week and all are in perfect shape for the game except Mel Thompson, veteran lineman, and Grover Dennis, fleet half. Mel injured his ankle last Saturday and Grover hurt his knee, so both will be on the sidelines tomorrow. Tuffy Griffiths is in good shape for the first time since the Intercollegiate race opened and will give the Redmen plenty of trouble.

Bernie Thornton, the forward pass man, is keeping up the training and should maintain his three-star rating in the Montreal game. Ab Miller, Bernie's line mate, should turn in a similar performance, too. Latimer and Young played an excellent game last week and aided and abetted by Munro's ace kicking will give the Tricolor a potent back division. With the rest of the team in fine fettle, it's look out, you Redmen!

PLANE CLUB HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

Saturdays and Sundays Set for Practising Gliding at St. Hubert

THE McGILL Flying Club, established for the past seven years,

will hold its opening organization meeting of the season this afternoon at 5:30 in Room 37 of the Engineering Building. This initial meeting will witness the attendance of from fifteen to twenty novice flying aspirants and plans will be drawn up for tomorrow's outing activities at St. Hubert Airport.

Every Saturday and Sunday the boys drive out to the Airport and there practice gliding and soaring in their three machines. Of these, the Northrop primary glider has just been donated to the group last Sunday by Mr. Norman Holland, by virtue of his interest in aeronautics and his desire for their advancement at McGill. The "Falcon" intermediate soarer has been built by the boys themselves in the Engineering Building. An old Packard Car and seven hundred feet of rope serve to tow the gliders up a long incline from which hops are made and heights of from three hundred to four hundred feet have been reached. While in the air the boys learn how to manage the controls and juggle with the rudder, valves, joysticks, etc.

Besides the actual flying, there is a great deal of repair work to be done at the hangars so that the grads and undergrads of the various faculties get much practical training both in handling the controls and in studying the mechanism of the plane. In spite of the $7.50 admission fee which is necessary to defray expenses, the numbers of applicants are increasing. (Continued on Page Four.)

ARCHITECTS HOLD INITIAL MEETING

Plan Activities for Sketching Club and Players' Club

WITH the President, A. L. Duffus, in the chair, the Architectural Society met yesterday afternoon in the main Lecture Hall. The first monthly meeting was announced for Monday, November 3, when a prominent local architect will speak on a subject not as yet announced.

Upon the motion of Mr. S. Ferguson, the Society resolved to hold an exhibition of sketches by the students, which, if possible will be first held in the Arts Building, then in Douglas Hall and the Faculty Club. A sketching club was the next suggestion of the meeting, and it was stated that if sufficient interest were evinced, adequate instruction could be obtained.

It was also announced that the Society would continue its usual co-operation with the Players' Club in Scene Designing. At a meeting next Monday at 5 p.m. in the Architectural Lecture Hall, the conditions for the set will be announced. The competition will be open to students in all Faculties, and a prize will be offered for the winning entry.

MCGILL ORCHESTRA

UNDER the auspices of the Montreal Orchestra, thirty-five students of the McGill Conservatorium of Music will present a special broadcast at 9:30 to-night over CFCF.

The orchestra will be conducted by R. de H. Tupper, Dean of the Faculty of Music and Lovell Carroll, a graduate of McGill will introduce the program.

This will be the third of a series designed to promote the cause of good music locally.

MCGILL HOPE FOR WIN

Plunging Expected to Offset Munro's Kicking

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED

Queen's Promised Stiff Battle to Get Out of Cellar Position

WITH enthusiasm at feverish height over a McGill Senior Football team that has every indication of going places, the Red team quietly and efficiently polished off its repertoire of plays last night in preparation for the Galloping Gaels from Queen's at the Molson Stadium Saturday afternoon. The Klan Kerr is in good shape and good spirits. The weatherman stopped frowning for a while yesterday and gave promises of beaming tomorrow afternoon. Another real football classic is in store for the thousands who mill into the grandstands tomorrow.

SECOND IN LEAGUE.

The McGill team is in second place in the intercollegiate league standing tied with the Varsity Beavers who were the victims of a story-book finish here last week. The Tricolor reposes, not comfortably, in the cellar—a position which it does not appreciate. Western's Purple and White flies high at the top of the league with an unbeaten intercollegiate record to date. Toronto journeys to London, Ontario, in an effort to stop the clean slate. At the same time Teddy Reeve's Tricolor have serious intentions of showing some people some things. It should all be very interesting.

One of the things that Queen's intends to show is one Johnny Munro, a kicker of no mean talent, who kicks placements, amongst other things, from forty yards out—and who hits goal-posts at the same time. McGill will likely have Alex Hamilton parrying punts with him. Hamilton has been gaining yardage on his kicks and should help the Red team to at least hold its own on kicks. The Tricolor use an outside, Bernie Thornton, to kick placements as well, who also has had the misfortune to hit uprights. The Redmen adept at kicking. (Continued on Page Four.)

ENGINEERS PLAN ISSUE OF DAILY

Executive Holds Meeting

SPIRRED on by last year's success, the engineers are planning to make another Engineering Issue of the "McGill Daily" within three weeks. It was decided yesterday at a meeting of the Engineering Undergraduate Society and members of last year's Editorial Board that second year should be offered the opportunity of organizing the board of editors for this year's Daily. John McKechnie was elected Editor-in-Chief, and he will work with the class executive of the second year.

In making plans for the paper, he has chosen as assistant Fritz Dugal, last year's Managing Editor. All other editors will be elected from the second year. First year was represented at the meeting by Cliff Morse, Norman Cuke and Howard Minogue. They offered their full co-operation in making the Daily a success. Jack Dodd and Bob Fritz represented the sophomore executive, and indicated their belief that their class would respond to the challenge.

One of the things that Queen's intends to show is one Johnny Munro, a kicker of no mean talent, who kicks placements, amongst other things, from forty yards out—and who hits goal-posts at the same time. McGill will likely have Alex Hamilton parrying punts with him. Hamilton has been gaining yardage on his kicks and should help the Red team to at least hold its own on kicks. ## WORLD NEWS FROM A TELEGRAPH KEY

CANADA

FULLY employable persons of both sexes in receipt of material aid to which the Dominion contributed, totalled 158,381 in July this year, as compared with 206,423 in September of last year, or a reduction of about 25 per cent, according to an illuminating report issued yesterday by the National Employment Commission.

Quebec province made an even better showing than the entire Dominion, and it must be borne in mind that these Dominion figures are exclusive of those receiving agricultural aid. Quebec's registration in July this year was 53,848, as against 83,156 in September last year, or a betterment of 30 per cent.

Montreal's showing was also encouraging, for the city's figures of fully employable persons of both sexes receiving material aid to which the Dominion contributed, were 37,990 in July, as against 52,979 in September last year. Of the July total 29,093 were male and 8,897 were female.

The showing of other centres in Quebec province for July this year was equally encouraging.

LONDON

PRIME Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons last night repeated and most categorical assurances had come from the Italian Government that it had no intention of annexing Spanish territory.

When this provoked derisive laughter from the Opposition benches the Prime Minister added:

"I accept these assurances as being given in good faith. I am very glad they have been given. They relieve us of the necessity of considering a situation which, if it had arisen, might have made a material change in the military conditions of the Western Mediterranean and would have been a matter of serious concern to His Majesty's Government."

Mr. Chamberlain said he resented a Labor charge that the Government's policy aided the Spanish insurgents and drew cheers when he revealed British ships, under the protection of the British navy, had removed 30,000 refugees from the town of Gijon which fell today to the insurgent forces.

CHINA

WHAT may be the decisive battle for Shanghai raged today on all fronts of this area.

Intense fighting broke out to the northwest in the vicinity of Tazung where the Japanese threw their utmost offensive power in an attempt to crack the Chinese lines. The Chinese abandoned defensive tactics and poured in reinforcements to engulf the Japanese in a powerful counter-offensive.

Chinese authorities said tonight that 10,000 Japanese troops were in danger of being cut off from their base in heavy fighting at Wentsan-pang Creek, 12 miles northwest of the city.

Tientsin dispatches reported Japan's North China command was making extensive preparations for further invasion of Shantung Province, where Chinese reports said Japanese forces had been retiring northward recently under pressure by the forces of General Han Fuchu, the provincial Governor.

ROME

ARCHBISHOP Celso Costantini, Secretary of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, yesterday called on Catholic missionaries to wage relentless combat against Communism, and not to limit themselves to prayers and devotions in that struggle.

Of the conflict between Catholic missions and Communism the archbishop said:

"A religious viewpoint that represents not only a denial of faith but is the antithesis of Christ, is engaged today in an implacable war against the Church throughout the world by written and spoken propaganda and by armed persecution."

"From Europe bolshevism penetrates to mission fields, using methods of the most clever astuteness and efficacy."

Archbishop Costantini declared that "in China, where communism already has shown itself, the good sense of the Chinese people has revolted, and a movement toward conversion to Catholicism is in progress as it never was in the past."

Protestant Education In Quebec

THE stand adopted by the Senate of McGill in demanding a thorough investigation and revision of Protestant educational facilities and methods in Quebec is much to be commended. The need of change and modernization of the system has long been felt. The action of the Senate and the Board of Trade in advocating a commission of investigation is merely an expression of this need.

In Canada, where there are two great racial and language groups, living side by side, education presents a problem and a solution. The problem is to devise some method through the means of education to eradicate any friction between the races. The solution, necessary if Canada is to develop to the extent to which it is capable, must come through greater understanding of the customs, habits and language of both groups. A reciprocal educational programme is vital.

English-speaking Canadians are prone to blame the French-Canadian population for lack of co-operation, for obstructionism, and to minimize their own culpability. The fact is that French-Canadians are in a majority in Quebec, that we are in the minority. The burden of establishing closer harmony and friendship is logically ours.

In this respect, the educational methods in our schools are hopelessly inadequate and dated. There is a very large majority of students who, after ten or fifteen years instruction in public and high schools, are unable to buy a pound of bacon in a French-speaking store. Even in the universities the accent is upon grammatical constructions, rather than on teaching students to speak French. The methods used in our public and high schools completely ignore the main aim in giving instruction in French to English-speaking children. Graduates of such a system are often able to read the greatest of French classics, yet unable to converse with a Frenchman.

These lamentable conditions are sure to rebound upon the student when he finds himself in the business or professional world. It prevents him from reaching any real understanding of the race with which he is dealing, and it lowers the esteem in which he is held by the French-Canadian.

It is little wonder then that Quebec has given birth to a movement for Separatism. Separatism already exists here because of the lack of real educational facilities. If you cannot speak another man's language it is very difficult to attain any rapport with him.

Let us do our part in breaking down the great, growing barriers between French and English. If any change in the Protestant Educational system comes it must come from us, and not from the Quebec Legislature. We must take the initiative, instead of talking vaguely about irreconcilables.

The Literature Society

Whereas most of the campus cliques have already presented in the Daily prospect of their lofty aims and endeavours, it is only fair that a society of such exalted designs as the Literature Society merits also some slight mention.

Among the highly publicized mutual admiration societies of peculiar people which adorn our college is one which is just a little more exclusive, a little more snobbish, and a little more consciously unconventional than the common run of clublet. It is the Literature Society.

At its meetings are to be found the long-haired aesthetes who mince languidly down the corridors of the Arts Building, sniffing delicately at scented lace handkerchiefs. Here too are the careless Bohemians who have tea in samovars and read their incomprehensible poems aloud to admiring friends. Pseudo-scholars and would-be pundits air their vague views to awed freshmen. In short, the most select of the university's intelligentsia and their worshipful disciples are all to be found within the sacred precincts of the Literature Society.

Its aims are not narrow, nor does it put free ideas into circumscription and confine. The literati scorn not the vacant universality of philosophy, which methodically, scientifically, and deliberately builds labyrinths about perplexity. The classics are not dead to them: they revel in the dusty tombs of Boccaccio and Rabelais. The "modns" are by no means ignored: Hemingway, Lawrence, and P. G. Wodehouse are reverently analysed and daringly discussed. And besides these high panjandrums of literature, the purveyors of popular sentiment are also discussed: dignified papers on the raucous crudity of tabloid journalism are presented. Nothing is omitted which has the most distant relation to Art, with a capital A.

No freshman can afford to neglect this unparalleled opportunity of communing with the higher Kultur. The literati, unfortunately, are frequently unable to appreciate works composed by any other hand than their own. There is a paucity of worshipful disciples. It is to the coming men that Art at McGill must look for future development. Therefore, freshmen, be not bashful, be not backward. Come and imbibe the drops of wisdom which spring from the lips of impassioned poets and inspired authors.

And if you too feel inspired and impassioned, do not hesitate yourselves to speak and tune the harp divine. A Daily reporter will be present to record your gems of rhetoric and inscribe them in imperishable newsprint that posterity may read and wonder.

CO-EDITS

DEAR MR. PRESIDENT.

AMONG the many burdens of office which he must sustain the Chief Executive of the United States carries on an extensive correspondence with distressed Americans from coast to coast; and naturally there are many choice phrases to be gleaned from such epistles. The following are some examples of what simple folk say when they write to Mr. Roosevelt to tell him their troubles.

"I heard that the WPA are employing writers and I hereby apply for a position. I have never written anything so I ought to be chuck full of ideas."

"I am not so well, hope these lines find you the same. I can't get a fitting place to stay. I want you to please paper me a house of my own. Write and let me know where to come."

"I have told the relief board about my shape and they say it is because I live on my father's farm."

IT HAPPENED IN HOLLYWOOD.

THE screen moguls have departed from their usual Boy-Meets-Girl routine and have brought forth a new film called, with strange lack of originality, "It Happened in Hollywood." In this epic Richard Dix rounds up doubles for all the great stars at a party for a sick boy. Columbia found twenty-six satisfactory doubles, one of the most convincing of whom was Eugene De Verdi as Charlie Chaplin. De Verdi has made a career of this impersonation, but as Chaplin has announced that he may never again appear as the little tramp the Italian's career may soon end. He has, fortunately, anticipated such an outcome and has learned the trade of a studio-lighting technician.

LIMERICK.

THERE was a young student of Queen's
Who was fond of explosive machines,
He once blew up a door
But he'll do it no more
For it chanced that the door was the dean's.

HAIR-DO.

DAME FASHION has had another change of mind as to how the most sophisticated sophisticate should wear her tresses and so when we were just getting nicely acquainted with the page-boy bob we are informed that it is definitely "passe". Still another blow is due to those who have taken to calots, like ducks to water; and it is this—the very smartest people will be wearing their hair high on the back of the head with flowers tucked underneath curls for evening. And if you can tell us how to wear a calot over curls and still not look as if your hair hadn't been combed for a week when the calot comes off then you have our permission to make up a new hair-do all of your own which we will be glad to print.

McGill Orchestra To Be Presented On Radio By Montreal Orchestra Friday Through CFCF-CFCX

THE Montreal Orchestra, Inc., in a sincere attempt to convince Montrealers of the vast pleasures held in store for them by good music will present the McGill Conservatorium Orchestra of thirty-five musicians in a special

HOW TO STUDY

By PROF. WATSON KIRKCONNELL
Department of Classics, Wesley College

I KNEW a youth in days gone by,
With anxious brow and staring eye,
Who in a college residence
To earnest study made pretence.
He'd sit before an open book
As doggedly as Rodin's "Thinker";
You'd vow he'd swallowed Learning's hook
Along with line, bait, pole and sinker.
But though he held the pose for hours,
True study was beyond his powers.
His memory was a painful blank;
His skull remained an empty tank.

The fact is, that effective study
Means more than pious expectation.
Reading is vain and thinking muddy
Without clear plans for concentration.
This is the truth that I attest—
By editorial request—
And while I cannot guarantee
In sixty lines to set you free
From handicaps of sloth and birth,
I'll give some hints for what they're worth.

First let the neophyte remember
(If to survival he aspires)
To purchase early in September
The text-books that his course requires.
Instead of wasting all his dollars
On rugby games and Arrow collars;
For workmen would be hopeless fools
Who tried to build, devoid of tools.
Text-books are vital to your task.
'Tis not enough to sit and bask
In lectures' light; for judgment skilled
Is something you yourself must build.
The profs can only give direction,
Or sting you into raw reflection.

Second, be sure to clear the decks,
Four nights a week, for college studies.
No matter what your age or sex,
Don't go cavorting with your buddies.
If skating pals or Glee Club tempt you
To join in their seductive revel,
Send them politely to the devil
Let duty to yourself exempt you!
You'll have full time to sing and skate
When you're a jobless graduate;
But never, never will you find
So fair a chance to train your mind.

A college does not take your fees
For all these curst "activities,"
For universities exist
To mitigate your mental mist
And not to train your lungs and feet
In moving grace and vocal bleat.
Four nights a week, then, you'll be sitting
At your own academic knitting,
Bolt upright on a hardwood chair,
With ample light, and good fresh air,
Sharp pencils, and a solid table—
With these, and silence, you'll be able
To make a most auspicious start
In mastering the scholar's art.

But you will gain small benefit
In merely staring at the pages;
You must exert your mother-wit
To earn your hard scholastic wages;
For as you read, you will be wise
To underline and summarize—
Divide and conquer, page and chapter,
And you will find yourself grow apter
In seizing on the central scheme
Of any philosophic theme;
Thus, too, your interests will freshen
And knowledge be your own possession.
When both your notebook and your mind
Bear records of this vital kind,
You are rewarded for your pain
And reading has not been in vain.

Remember also to divide
The evening hours, as they glide,
According to a schedule strict
Among the subjects you have picked.
Interference in Maths or Latin
Will mean that English is neglected.
'Tis urgent to get this and that in;
Omissions will be soon detected.
Perusal of one's class-room notes
Is also wise. If one devotes
Fixed periods each night to this,
The time will not be spent amiss.

One parting word. Do not be chary
In owning a good dictionary.
For words are Thought's embodiment,
And unknown words must represent
A challenge to your brain requiring
A search for thought that is untiring.
A glossary of your own making
Is a most worthy undertaking;
No other action can reveal
More certain proof of student zeal.

—The Manitoban.

MILITARY MATTERS

YOUR correspondent was accorded the privilege of an interview with Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee, D.S.O., A.D.C.

Col. Magee, a prominent lawyer, is President of Barclay's Bank (Canada), and a Director of the Dominion Rubber Co., Provincial Transport Co., Associated Screen News and Barclay's Trust Company. He served as a Lieutenant and Captain with the 26th Battalion of the Montreal Light Infantry between 1899 and 1906, and in 1914 became a Major and Second-in-Command of the McGill C.O.T.C. He organized and went Overseas in command of the 148th Batt. C.E.F., trained and officered by the McGill C.O.T.C. He served in France, Belgium and Germany as General Staff Officer, 2nd Grade, with the 4th Canadian Division and with the Headquarters of the Canadian Corps. He was mentioned in despatches and was awarded the D.S.O.

He was Commanding Officer of the McGill C.O.T.C., in 1919 and 1920, and is now Honorary Colonel of the unit, and an Honorary Aide-de-Camp to H.E. the Governor-General.

Col. Magee stated that, like others who had seen Service and the horror and destruction of War, he was naturally greatly concerned with the present situation and sincerely hoped that there would be no recurrence of those disastrous years.

He went on to say that the seriousness of present conditions and Canada's interest and vulnerability were perhaps brought home to all Canadians by the recent speech of President Roosevelt, delivered at Chicago on October 5th last. "In effect, President Roosevelt stated that immediate concerted action was required by all peace-loving nations to prevent a world conflict, that there was no security in isolation and that we, on the North American Continent, were gravely affected."

It may be concluded that it was only the serious and critical nature of the present circumstances that convinced the President that the time had come for his own countrymen and the world at large to realize that the United States intends to strive and search for peace with all its strength and resources." It was Col. Magee's opinion that if, at the risk of great political disfavour with the large foreign population of the United States, President Roosevelt considered it necessary to make the speech he did, then the situation is sufficiently serious to warrant careful consideration of Canada's position and attitude in the event of the failure of all peace efforts and our becoming involved in a War.

Col. Magee has no doubt that, if the necessity arises, Canadians will show the same courageous spirit and loyalty as they did in the Great War and that University men will again play a leading part in any Canadian Force that takes the field. He has noticed that during the last six months many Canadians, and in particular University men, have been considering their own individual cases and the possibility of their own personal participation in Canada's War effort, should the occasion arise. From a military standpoint he considers that "a University man can best serve his country as an Officer and, should he enlist and become an Officer, he will be expected to perform his duties efficiently and to be so trained as to prevent unnecessary loss of those whom he leads."

Col. Magee points out to those who desire to serve in the Military or merely to prepare themselves for the eventuality of War that "the C.O.T.C. offers an excellent opportunity to McGill men to qualify as efficient officers without ostentation and with a minimum expense of time."

Col. Magee had personal experience and saw the magnificent contributions which the C.O.T.C.'s of all Canadian Universities made during the Great War and he has always taken a keen interest in McGill C.O.T.C.

THROUGH THE RAIN.

Again the C.O.T.C., headed by the pipe band marched to the Grenadier Guards' Armoury and the usual Tuesday rainfall did not fail them, but it did fail to dampen their spirits.

Classes continued "training as per syllabus." The recruits proved very promising by doing their squad drill extremely well, considering it was only their second parade. The certificate classes received a lecture on "Parts of the Rifle and Elementary Mechanism" from Major H. Pennell.

In the second period the Certificate A (Lieutenant) candidates practised mutual instruction in arms drill under Lieut. R. Rothschild, while the Certificate B (Captain) candidates continued their Company drill. The contingent then marched back to Headquarters, where the affairs of the nation were decided over coffee and light refreshments.

DESSAULLES IN SEMI-FINALS OF COLLEGE TENNIS

Wins Two Rounds Yesterday; O'Briens and Schwartz Lose

VARSITY LEAD BY POINT

Singles Matches Continue Today—Doubles Start Also—Finals Scheduled for Tomorrow

KINGSTON, October 21.—(Special to the McGill Daily).—At the close of yesterday's play last year's champions Varsity were leading in the singles match play, with five points. Following close behind with four points was the Redmen led by Pierre Dessaulles who won two matches in the day's play. Both Bill and Stuart O'Brien won their first round matches but were eliminated in their second round matches. George Leclerc of U. of M. was the one who defeated Stuart O'Brien after losing the first set 4-6. The chance of McGill regaining the singles crown now depends on Pierre Dessaulles as he enters the third round with good chances of entering the finals.

The results of the first and second rounds concerning the McGill men are as follows:

FIRST ROUND.

S. O'Brien defeated D. Findlayson 6-4, 6-3 (Queen's); W. O'Brien defeated J. McDonald (Queen's) 6-1, 6-3; P. Dessaulles defeated B. Fortin (U. of M.) 2-6, 6-3, 8-6; A. Dessault defeated H. Schwartz (McGill) 6-4, 6-3.

SECOND ROUND.

G. Leclerc (U. of M.) defeated S. O'Brien (McGill) 4-6, 6-3, 6-0; B. Hall (Toronto) defeated W. O'Brien (McGill) 6-1, 6-1; P. Dessaulles defeated J. Tomlinson (Toronto) 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

The McGill Tennis Team, led by their number one man, Pierre Dessaulles, who holds that position by virtue of his victory in this year's campus tourney, began their attempt to regain yesterday the Intercollegiate Title they lost last year to Toronto. Queen's are acting as hosts for this year's tournament and will get a chance to see one of the most interesting college contests of recent years.

DESSAULLES IN FORM

The Redmen are this year without the services of their last year's star singles player, Bob Murray. Bob, who won the Intercollegiate Singles title in last year's matches will not be present to defend his crown. So that by the end of the week a new champion will reign for another season. Dessaulles' chances of winning this vacated title seem to be very good as he certainly proved that he had a good tennis head in capturing the title from Stu O'Brien in the finals. His mastery of the shots required of a champion were all that seemed to be needed. His calm and presence of mind was clearly shown in all his matches which ultimately led to the title.

Five men left for Kingston to represent McGill in the tournament matches where they will meet teams from Toronto, the University of Montreal, and their hosts, Queen's University. Pierre Dessaulles and one of the O'Brien brothers, Stuart or Bill, will handle the single assignments of the Red team. The doubles team will be chosen before the matches are to take place. Last year the lack of a strong enough doubles combination resulted in the loss of the title to Toronto in a play-off.

DOUBLES TEAM DUBIOUS.

The remaining two members of the team are Harry Schwartz who teamed up with Bob Murray to form last year's double combination, Jack McMartin a freshman who was seeded sixth in this year's tournament. Harry was defeated in the semi-finals by Stuart O'Brien but his experience in doubles play will mean a lot to whoever teams up with him to form the doubles pair. Jack's performance was very creditable considering that it was his first year against the college competition, however his previous experience in tennis play has given him the required amount of match play competition.

Toronto, the defending champions, appear to be the team for the Redmen to beat if they wish to recapture their lost title this week-end. They will receive plenty of competition as Varsity's last year stars, Bill Piggott and Bruce Hall, will be bearing the brunt of the Toronto attack in their first defence of the newly won title. It is expected that George Leclerc of the U. of M. will be on hand to go after the singles crown.

Bill Rogin, former Assumption College Basketball star, will wear the uniform of the Blue Ribbons team of Vancouver, B.C., this year.

COLLEGE TRACK MEET IS SET FOR TORONTO TODAY

McGill Senior Team Seeks Eighth Consecutive Title

TORONTO BIG THREAT

Several New Records Expected—Intermediate Meet Here Tuesday

TORONTO, October 21.—The McGill Senior Track Team arrived in Toronto tonight to defend their title tomorrow afternoon against the pick of the Canadian College athletes. For seven consecutive years Coach Van Wagner's track squad have outpointed all teams for the Intercollegiate Track Championship and have high hopes of making this the 8th victorious year. Each of the nineteen stalwarts are in top form after a regulated practice schedule which ended on Tuesday and after watching these try-outs it would not be surprising to see a few long-standing track records fall.

Clarry Frankton, veteran track and harrier star, and Lloyd Cooke, newcomer from Wisconsin, seem most certain to smash a few of these. The team will be at top strength, notwithstanding the fact that it will not include Johnny Loaring, Gene Racord, Munroe Bourne, Bob Quinly and other last year point winners. But the object first and foremost in each man's mind is not the records, but to win the championship.

The Big Threat to the Red team is Toronto with such able athletes as Larry O'Connor, probably the best hurdler that Canada has ever produced, and George McHenry, their ace sprinter, who will be in their day at 3:30 trying to stop McGill's run of wins.

McGill's track squad consists of the following: Captain Morgan, discus; Moskowit, 100, 220, 400, relay; Giannasio, 100, 220, 400, relay; Mason, 220, 400, relay; Borsman, 220, 440, relay; Cooke, 880, mile, three-mile; Cowan, 880, mile, relay; Frankton, mile, three-mile; Todd, three-mile; Love, pole vault, broad jump; Peck, high jump; Kisanec, shot-put; Anderson, discus, shot-put; Richert, javelin; Porter, high and low hurdles, 220; Briant, low hurdles, high jump; Yuille, high jump; Crabtree, broad jump; Escotery, broad jump. Coach Van Wagner, Trainer Ernie Cooke, Manager Ken McKay and three track officials will also accompany the team. All men wishing to try out for the Intermediate team should turn out at the Stadium in the very near future so that a team can be lined up for the Intermediate Track Meet to be held at the McGill Stadium on Tuesday, October 26. Those chosen for the team so far are practising regularly and it looks as if the team will retain the laurels won last year.

RUGGER SQUAD MEETS VARSITY THIS WEEK-END

Strong Red Team Expected to Play Well in Toronto

GAME TOMORROW

FULL of fight and remembering the trouncing handed out to them by the Toronto team last year, McGill's Rugger Squad entrain for the Queen City today with revenge in their hearts towards last year's champions. The new coach, Dr. MacIntosh, has formed a well balanced team this year under the captainship of Johnny Ricker. So far they are firmly entrenched in second place in the Montreal League, with one win and a tie chalked up to their credit.

The team has been strengthened

HERE and THERE

by '38

Week-end predictions:

McGILL TO TAKE QUEENS by the margin of another good old touch despite the smart kicking of Munro.

VARSITY WILL JUST BEAT WESTERN at London. The loss of Moore should be enough for Toronto.

OTTAWA TO TRIM ARGOS at Toronto despite kicking of Isbister. MONTREAL SHOULD TAKE HAMILTON but they're a very funny team—like these predictions. Last week's predictions—50%.

WELL another week-end has arrived and with it another big game. It may lack the traditional rivalry of the game with Varsity but this one at any rate is very important. A win will put the Red team in a very nice position, while a loss will set them back on their heels with a rather dark future.

AGAIN this week we urge you to turn up for the game, and once you have arrived there give the cheerleaders your support. Maybe you think you can do better, but don't forget job cheer-leading. Which reminds us that a its a thankless new "would be"

Arden Hedge
yell appears in the Daily. Miss Bulley and Mr. Costin are to be "congratulated."

FOR those of you who take your football seriously watch the line at work tomorrow. For example take your eyes off the ball when Queen's have it and just concentrate on Ruschn or Hornig. These boys get right in there, down low and are off with the ball—Andy Anton should try that method. Then take a look at the correct way to play secondary defence as shown by Prestie Robb—If there's a loose ball around he'll pick it up. His down field tackling is not to be sneered at either.

A WORD of praise is due the fine work of the ends this year. These boys didn't let Cam Gray get away once last week-end. Jim Hall, Arden Hedge, Ken Wilson and Charlie Thompson are all reliable men and we seem to be the best equipped team in the league in this department.

SPRAGUE, Stollery, Munro and Thornton seem to be the big guns in the Tricolor attack. The latter two are both better than average placement kickers and of course everyone is aware of the talented Joe that Munro possesses. However, it looks as though our line should more than hold its own and if Hamilton kicks as well as last week, he won't be outdistanced much by the Queen's booter.

by several newcomers and these, added to last year's players, should give the Toronto team a lot of opposition. Last year's English Rugby team members on the squad this year include Argo, Holgate and Mearns, as quarters, and Foster, Bubbis, Weideman and Duffus as forwards.

The Red team in showings so far leaves nothing to be desired in the passing and kicking departments and should be hard to beat. The objective of this year's team is the championship snatched by the Blue boys last year, and current indications point to the fulfilment of this aim.

The team will be made up of the following: J. Ricker, captain; J. Whitelaw, W. Argo, J. Carr, J. Mearns, D. Holgate, W. Sutherland, C. Arbuckle, J. Angus, D. Withrow, C. Widenmann, S. Sadovsky, J. Dodds, A. Duffus, M. Bubbis, G. Foster, R. McKenzie and C. K. Morris.

R.M.C. SOCCER TEAM HOSTS TO MCGILL PLAYERS

Leave for Kingston Tomorrow Morning for Intercollegiate Series

PLAY RETURN GAMES

First Battle of Home-and-Home Series in Lime City—Red Team Confident

LEAVING from Bonaventure Station tomorrow morning, thirteen good men and true journey to Kingston to do battle with the R. M. C. soccer team. The game in the afternoon will be the first of a home and home series between the two teams for the championship of the eastern section of the Intercollegiate League. The return game will be played here on November 6.

The Red team are confident of victory, although the Cadets are an unknown quantity. One thing is certain and that is that the soldier boys will be in good physical condition. In the games here to date, the McGill squad has won three games, dropped two and tied one. On the whole Coach Hay Finlay has rounded together a well-drilled, well-balanced team.

FULL TEAM NAMED.

The winner of the eastern division, which consists of only R.M.C. and McGill, may play the winner of the Western division of four teams. This playoff hinges on certain travelling difficulties and distances.

Harold Snell will be in the nets for the Red team, with Captain Vardy Laing of Medicine and Joseph Martinus Arnold Saltibus, a freshman, as fullbacks. Hughie Horsnall of Macdonald College, Ainsworth Scott in Engineering, and Barry Porteous of Commerce form the halfback line.

Frank Carey, Hank Thacher, John Gladwin, Victor Hagen and Jack O. Baronofsky are the front rank and form the attacking power of the team. Two substitutes, Claude Tetraull and Oliver Northcott will also make the trip, along with Coach Hay Finlay.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB WILL MEET THIS WEDNESDAY

"WHAT is Philosophy?" will be subject of the talk to be given by Mr. Currie, newly-appointed lecturer in the Department of Philosophy, at the first meeting of the Philosophical Society. This meeting will take place in Strathcona Hall on Wednesday, October 27, at 8:15. Following Mr. Currie's opening address, the subject will be open for a general discussion in which members of the audience will be invited to participate.

All those who are taking philosophy, particularly those who have started their study this year, and all others interested in the subject, will be welcome.

WAR CURE.

Among the fine ideas that have come to the world from China, is one from Chang-I-lin, 72-year-old ex-minister of education for the Chinese republic.

Chang proposed an army of oldsters, with none of the fighting men under 50 years of age. This, he argued, would conserve the nation's youth. Unfortunately, when he went to Nanking to sell his plan to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Sek, he was turned down.

If those who make wars had to fight them, they would find some way of getting along without wars.—Waco News-Tribune.

Students Are Requested to Learn Winning Football Yell

The following yell has been awarded the prize of two tickets to this week's football game against Queen's. Although it leaves much to be desired in the way of a forceful, lung-ripping rendition, it was judged the most yellable effort submitted. Students should take notice and learn this for tomorrow's game. Possibly aspiring writers can do better. Let's see it.

Red team, Red team, fight, fight, fight,
Down the field, down the field, show your might;
To victory, to victory, hit that line, Get that team again this time.

M-C-G-I-L-L—McGILL.

—Betty Bulley and Saul Costin.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS TOURNAMENT FOR CO-EDS TODAY

Western, Queen's, Varsity, McMaster, Also Represented

FINALS TOMORROW

CO-ED Intercollegiate tennis takes its bow here today for the first time in five years. Teams from Varsity, Western, Queen's and McMaster will be represented in the tourney to be held on the McTavish Street courts. The Varsity co-eds are the present titleholders but the R.V.C. girls have a strong team and stand a good chance to regain the crown.

Opening rounds will be held this morning at ten o'clock and will continue this afternoon, finals taking place tomorrow. The McGill team is made up of Betty Savage, Barbara Barnard, Lila Redmond, Diana Stanier. The first two will handle the singles assignments and all of them will play in the doubles. Varsity will be represented by Claire Walsh, Polly Shaw, J. Tannenbaum and V. Richardson. Western will feature Jean Patterson, Betty Beal, Joan Brealspear and Betty Patterson. The other line-ups had not been announced late last night.

If the weather is unsuitable the games will be played on the private courts of Mr. McConnell, 1475 Pine avenue. Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Berkley Hotel a banquet will be held. Mrs. Grant, Warden of R.V.C., will be the guest of honour.

THEOLOGICAL SOCIETY MEETS THIS MONDAY

ON Monday evening, October 25, the Theological Undergraduate Society will hold its first social function of the session in the auditorium of Divinity Hall.

Professors and students of the three colleges, with their feminine guests, will be entertained with a musical programme, supplied by the students, and a buffet supper will be served.

The principals of the Anglican, United and Presbyterian colleges, or their representatives, will speak very briefly on various aspects of the theological student's life.

The entertainment is being designed to enable the professors, students and their friends to become better acquainted with one another in an atmosphere of informal fellowship.

FRESHIE DINNER

Buy your tickets today from Miss Heasley at the Union.

FLASH! FLASH!

WORD was received here last night that Bob Brown, rookie boxing sensation from Edmonton and at the present time taking part in the Provincial Novice Tourney slugged his way to the finals last night by knocking out Larry Bouchard in the third round. Bob is in Physical Ed. at McGill and looks like a real good prospect for the B. W. and F. "Battler" Jack Ross was his second and Coach Bert Light was in close attendance.

Bob opened up cautiously, feeling out his opponent but he soon opened up and in the last round had Bouchard down twice for the count of nine before finally putting him to sleep. The finals will take place tomorrow night at the Victoria Rifles Armoury and you could do a lot worse than take in the bout.

R.V.C. HISTORICAL CLUB

OPENING its first meeting of the season at 8:15 p.m. on October 28th, Miss Dorothy Ross will address the R.V.C. Historical Club at 3601 University street.

The speech will be followed by reports presented by the Misses Helen McMaster and Effie Astbury dealing with the Youth Conference. The club is open to all women students interested in history and offers an opportunity for lively discussion. Meetings are held every three weeks throughout the college session.

This year the Club plans to stress present day themes and the Executive have suggested such topics as—History of Education in Canada, Canada's Foreign Policy and Labour Problems in Canada.

Correspondence

Opinions expressed below are the opinions of the writers of the letters and not the opinions of the Managing Board of the Daily. The Daily does not take sides in any question, and is always glad to publish a point of view so long as the writer is sincere.

Montreal, Thursday, Oct. 21, 1937.
To the writer of the article dealing with Youth Hostels in the editorial columns of yesterday's "Daily."

Dear Sir,
If I take this opportunity to answer your article about "Youth Hostels" it's not because I am against your ideas about this organization, but because as an active director of "Les Auberges de Jeunesse" in the Province of Quebec I want to tell you that you wrote your article without seeking enough information about it as far as Canada is concerned.

Yesterday I was very glad to see that the McGill Daily had dedicated an article in its editorial page dealing with "Youth Hostels."

But I didn't have to read much to see that instead of being a support to our organization we were unknown to you and to use your own words "It certainly does seem a pity that we cannot have something of this nature in Canada."

I am very surprised to see that you know a lot about hostels in Germany, British Isles and United States with all their regulations, fees, etc., and that you do not know what exists in your country.

I would be very glad to give you all the information about our Hostels at any time and I propose to write an article in the Daily about it soon.

We had about ten articles in the newspapers and about five in different periodicals since last spring which I am sure you didn't see. Just to give an outlook of the thing I can tell you that a charter has been obtained from the Provincial Government through the instances of the 15 directors of "Les Auberges de la Jeunesse"; that we have regulations taken mostly from the rules of the Youth Hostels in the other countries. To give an expansion to the sport of cycling and walking it costs one-third more for those who are going to the hostels with their automobiles.

We have cards for members which must be renewed annually subject to a little fee.

Last summer we opened up eight hostels in the Laurentians; there was one at St. Adele, one at St. Adolphe, one at Sixteen Islands Lake, one at Ivry, one at Lake Superior, one at Lake Mercier, one at Lake Tremblant, and one at Lake Vert.

At our last meeting Tuesday a report was given which shows that 1,504 nights were spent in the Hostels, and 3,509 meals were served. We decided to open just four of them this winter for those who want to go skiing. Something that you will be very surprised to hear of is that there are some Youth Hostels too in the Province of Alberta and that they are doing pretty well; a lot of publicity was made about their Hostels too and I have read some of the articles about it myself.

More than that last month there was a meeting here in Montreal where you could have seen Sir St. John Catchpool, representative of the English Youth Hostels, also Miss Allen from the Alberta Youth Hostels and another representative from the Hostels of the United States, and remember that these people came here without convocation but to see us and discuss about our affiliations to the International Youth Hostels Organization.

I am really astounded to see that all these people and specially English knew of our existence and that you didn't know yourself.

I admire your interest in the thing but I think that your article in regard to the Province of Quebec is six months too late and may be more than that as regards the Province of Alberta.

I hope you will be able some day to come up North and enjoy yourself in one of our Hostels.

I would be very glad to receive information from you about the Hostels in different countries but I hope they will be more up-to-date than your article.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) ARTHUR SIMARD,
Faculty of Law.

GRADUATES AREN'T CONQUERING.

The 1937 college graduate doesn't want to go out and conquer the world—at least not in a survey made by Bruce Bliven, Jr., and published in the Women's Home Companion. The youthful author, member of the class of '37, travelled from coast to coast to make the survey.

World travel and listening to swing bands is the ultimate goal. Bliven said: "The attitude of the class on the money problem, I think, is that since this is a world where virtue has little regard, the thing to do is work as little as possible, get paid as much as possible, retire as early as possible and spend the rest of one's life listening to Benny Goodman records, making merry, going to the movies, travelling around the world and living an idealistic comfortable life. Needless to say, most of the class is going to get it in the neck on this ambition."

ART POSTERS BRING ACCLAIM

Exhibit to Remain Open

SO successful has been the exhibition of Spanish Art posters being shown under the sponsorship of the Social Problems Club that the display will continue until seven to-night. A good number of well-known Montreal artists and campus personalities have been among those present. The site of the display is in the gymnasium of Strathcona Hall.

All who have seen it have expressed their appreciation of the collection which includes Government posters, photographs, taken by Hazen Sise, and a set of water-colours by Sim. It is the claim of many that the feature attraction of the exhibition is the realistic portrayal of what is happening behind the Loyalist lines. Admission is ten cents, the proceeds going to the Montreal committee for medical aid to Spain.

PLANE CLUB HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

tions for membership have so increased this year that, as Frank Booth, the Secretary announced, "The membership list may be limited to thirty students and some applications may unfortunately be rejected if they exceed that number."

Under the Presidency of Dr. Richardson and with Col. Bovey, Prof. McKergow, and Dr. Strutter, the Bursar, acting in an advisory capacity, the executive have drawn up plans for a record season.

MCGILL HOPES FOR VICTORY

ing placements are Bob Keefer and Lou Ruschin.

AT FULL STRENGTH.

Handling the McGill team at quarter is Ronnie Perowne, whose smooth work has been largely responsible for the long gains through the line and around it. Young has been directing plays as quarterback for the Tricolor.

The half-line for the Redmen this week-end will be the same, composed of Cam MacArthur, Russ Merfield, and Russ McConnell, with Alex Hamilton at flying wing.

Prestie Robb has recovered from his attack of boils and will see almost full-time service. Chuck Smith, at inside, has been showing up well in plunging and may see more action. Bob Kenny and Murray Telford start at middle wings.

Stollery, at flying-wing, and Sprague at middle are two strong men for the Tricolor while Conlin is a reliable snap. The McGill team should show considerable power through the line, with a smoother and more effective end-run play. The forward-passing attacks of both teams will play important parts in the battle.

The probable line-ups for Saturday are:

McGill.
Stollery.....f. wing ..... Hamilton
Munro.....half ..... Keefer
Anann.....half ..... MacArthur
Dennis.....half ..... Merfield
Young.....quarter ..... Perowne
Conlin.....snap ..... Robb
McLean.....inside ..... Hornig
Jones.....inside ..... Ruschin
Peekey.....middle ..... Telford
Sprague.....middle ..... Kenny
Thornton.....outside ..... Hall
Miller.....outside ..... Thompson
Queen's subs: Parthouski, Kerr, Thompson, Jack, Sampson, Carson, Wilson.

McGill subs: Anderson, Hedge, Wilson, Rossiter, Beveridge, Smith, Anton.

LEAD DISCUSSES NEEDS FOR HIGH SCHOOL BIOLOGY

A point that raised a great deal of discussion was Mr. Lead's suggestion for a new high school system which would abolish all grades, and substitute selective education—that is, education which would enable a student to concentrate on the full development of his natural abilities in any subject, without compelling him to spend a lot of time on subjects for which he has no aptitude. In this way a student who has a knack for mathematics may be in what is now the tenth grade in Mathematics, and only in the eighth grade in French.

The second speaker, Allen Gold, presented the view of the students on the subject. Quoting Dr. Alexis Carrel, he said, "Many of the ills of society are due to an insufficient knowledge of the laws of nature." He advocated increased study of biology, especially for Arts students, who were all too prone to neglect it altogether.

Discussion on the present position of biology in the school curriculum brought out the fact that it is generally considered a subject for students who have not the qualifications to take a more difficult course, like physics or advanced mathematics. As a matter of fact there is only one high school, Strathcona Academy, which teaches biology to boys as well as girls. However, when biology begins to formulate a philosophy of its own, it will attract the more intelligent students.

will be tolerated, thus making the occasion as exclusively for freshmen and freshettes as possible. It has been decided that only those who attend the dinner planned for First Year Students will be permitted to attend the subsequent dancing.

Following the Banquets, the Freshettes and Freshmen will join forces for their prom in the Union Ballroom, where they will be the guests of the McGill Union. With Howard Simpson supplying the dance music, this prom will be the final event of an evening devoted to Frosh celebrations. The dancing is scheduled to continue until one o'clock in the morning. There will be a charge of twenty-five cents for the dancing.

Freshettes may purchase their tickets for the dinner and prom from Miss Heasley at the offices of the Students' Society. Freshmen may procure their tickets from any of their own Freshman officers or from Bill Gentleman.

In order to avoid unnecessary work and confusion, tickets will not be sold at the door. All those who wish to attend these functions should procure their tickets well in advance in order to facilitate arrangements for the various events of the evening.
